The village caucus resulted in the nomination of three men whose names were printed on ballots after the old fashioned way of campaigning and voting. There were five men nominated and ballots should have been furnished for people to express their choice. As it was, no blank ballots were furnished. We are informed that many people were permitted to vote in that caucus who were not entitled to vote and who would lose their homesteads if the facts were brought up against them as claiming their residence here. The men who thus proclaimed, by a resolution passed that they would have no gambling in the city, assisted each other in the effort to carry their choice for nomination successfully through by knowingly voting fraudulently and permitting others to do so without protest, simply because they were voting right. What have they accomplished? A board has been selected that will be favorable to Cornell's land deal. Either nominee would have been equally ardent for the suppression of gambling under the new ordinance and now our city is to lose that 520 acres of land in a gift to one citizen because prejudice has swayed the minds of our people and they lose sight of great opportunities in their zeal to punish as they think, one class of our people. The one side arrayed against the other. One side, well known for its prejudices is worked into supporting three men who are called anti-saloon for effect, and to get the support of unsuspecting people. Our citizens will learn when it is too late that they have been robbed of privileges which our town might have enjoyed.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

I. M. Jones has been sick the past week with the grip.

Wm. Bachelor, of Woodlake, spent a couple of days in town the past week.

Another blizzard today—but the sun is coming out and it will soon be spring.

Mat Boltz, of Nenzel, was one of the assessors present at the assessors meeting Tuesday.

John P. Jones handed us a dollar on subscription this week and said "send it along for another year."

Howland Dailey moved into rooms over T. C. Hornby's grocery yesterday and will do dental work.

Albert Pike and a brother from Iowa, who is visiting him for the first time in the west, made us a visit recently.

C. R. Wolfenden, a son-in-law of John D. Kimes, was in town transacting business this week, from his place near Newton.

Miss Emma Kackmeister has been quite sick with pneumonia the past week at Mr. Bohle's. Her mother is here taking care of her.

A. Morey, with pleasant countenance and his usual good way, handed us a dollar this week on subscription which pays 52 weeks in advance.

Judge Zarr came down yesterday from the St. Mary's Mission bringing Miss Jessie Lake, who had received a telegram from Gettysburg, S. D. to come home as her mother was sick and her brother had broken a leg.

E. H. Bohle went down to Ainsworth this morning on business.

Wash Honey, of Woodlake, made us a pleasant visit Tuesday while in our city.

Ed Satterlee, the Nenzel merchant, was in town Tuesday and called at our office for a friendly visit.

N. J. Underwood, representing the Canton Bridge Co., is in the city to contract for a bridge across the Niobrara.

J. C. Webb, proprietor of the Donohoe hotel, was able to get up last Tuesday and spend a part of the day in the office.

Dr. Campbell and wife called at our office while in the city and had some very neat cards printed for their office at Cody.

Wm. Crane, of Eli; S. M. Woodward, of Irwin and W. D. Ricketts, of Merriman, were attending the assessors meeting in the city Tuesday.

Ira Johnson, of Lavaca, called on us for a visit while in the city attending the assessors meeting Tuesday. He reports stock getting along nicely.

Mrs. T. C. Hornby left yesterday morning for Neligh, and this morning Tom started and will join his wife after which they will spend a couple of months touring in California.

Chas. P. Jordan and F. P. Mullen and son came down Monday from Rosebud to take the train for Yankton, S. D. for a short visit, and witness the dedication of the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. M. Waybrant departed for her home at Plattsmouth last Sunday week after a week's visit here in caring for her brother, Jas. Brantner, who is now able to be up and walking around.

Barney Denair and his father, of near Arabia, were in town this week. Barney paid us another year in advance for THE DEMOCRAT and took the Commoner in connection with it at 55c extra.

A report from Merriman says that a fight took place last Friday night between Godfrey, Jim Harris and Willie Provost in which the latter came out best. We did not learn the cause of the trouble.

Wm. Riege, a son of Peter Riege west of town, called with his brother this week and asked us to send him the DEMOCRAT to Sherwood, Ore. Mr. R—recently returned here from Dawson City, Canada.

W. E. Efner was hurt a couple of weeks ago in leaning over a huge box trying to scrape up some coal. The pressure of his body on one of his ribs caused a fracture. He is at his work each day but feels pretty sore.

Raffenburg Bros. of Anita, Iowa, are in town with a carload of young coach and draft bred stallions, one young Jack, a fine saddle stallion, and a few Short Horn bulls. Call and see them at the Valentine House. Prices are right. 1 t

Father Lechleitner returned last Friday evening from the St. Joseph's hospital where he had been a couple of weeks having one of his eyes operated on. He took Ed Satterlee's little daughter Frances down with him to have her eyes straightened and while there she caught the measles and was obliged to remain until her recovery. Mr. Satterlee contemplates going down the latter part of this week to bring her home if she can be removed.

The minstrel show that is to take place at the Post on the 27th and 28th of this month seems to be getting along very nicely. The evening for Valentine people will be Friday the 27th, and reserved seats will be on sale in town at Davenport & Thacher's until Thursday the 26th. Contrary to the general run of shows of this class, the afterpiece will be a good one. It is entitled "Dr. Hipp, the Hypnotist" and will be given attention by the players. The performance will be chock-full of songs that will please, serious as well as comic. The first part is being rehearsed with particular care.

LOST—somewhere on wagon road leading from Valentine to Crookston on March 9, 1903, a black plush cape, trimmed with braid and beads and fur all around cape and collar. Finder please leave at this office. 9 1

The county commissioners are now in session. J. F. Swain and Wm. Allen appeared before them asking for a bridge at the old Bell site and the strong petition presented seems to have had some weight with that honorable body.

L. K. Travis and wife, of the St. Mary's Mission school, called on us while in our city Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Travis seem to be very nice people and are surely doing creditable work as superintendents of the St. Mary's school. They appreciate the weekly visits of the DEMOCRAT.

Seventeen years ago the 17th day of March Ed Satterlee located in Cherry county at Nenzel and has been a faithful democrat all these years and is proud of it. He has been successful in business and though at times a streak of misfortune cast a shadow on his pathway there has been more sunshine than clouds to brighten his life. The plan is, "faithful to the end," with men who succeed.

M. P. Haley was the jolliest man in town Tuesday unless it was Pat Fitzgerald. It does us good to meet and shake hands with the good old men who can't forget nor wouldn't if they could, the 17th day of March when all men who wear the green or shamrock, put on their best suit, their oldest hat and sunniest smile. God bless the dear old boys. They are the best hearted fellows in the world.

There was a meeting of the physicians of Cherry county held in Dr. Furay's office last Monday for the purpose of organizing a Cherry County Medical Society. Those present were: Drs. T. F. Campbell, of Cody; Milt B. McDowell, of Merriman; Ira C. Brown, of Ft. Niobrara; Alfred Lewis, A. N. Compton and E. S. Furay, of this city. Dr. Brown was made temporary chairman and Dr. Furay temporary secy. Permanent organization, Drs. Furay was chosen president, Campbell vice pres. and McDowell secretary-treasurer; Compton, censor for three years, McDowell 2 yrs., and Campbell for one year. Dr. Lewis was elected delegate to the state medical meeting in April. The next meeting will be held May 11 at which time interesting papers will be read. A suggestion was offered that Dr. Compton as chairman of the board of health see the county commissioners with view of getting a blank form printed for the reporting of all contagious diseases in the county.
